

Increase your productivity and reduce employee turnover for less than the cost of a T-shirt per employee.

Dear Business Owner:

With our nation's vibrant economy and low unemployment rate, it is more important than ever for employers to keep employees happy. Raises alone won't do it. Flexible hours won't do it. For companies to reduce turnover and keep workers happy, they have to use an overall approach that makes employees happier and more satisfied with their jobs. They must add value to the employees' lives and commit themselves to employees' lifelong learning and growth.

We've developed a way for you to do just that: host Employee Value Seminars at your work site for employees and their families. Here's how the program works. Once every two weeks, we'll schedule a half-hour seminar on one topic, with subjects ranging from health and well-being to business and technology. We'll book highly qualified speakers, provide all notices to be posted at your facilities, and provide materials to be handed out by the speakers. In addition, we'll handle payment to the speaker (if a fee is required) and coordinate any management or employee participation teams. All you have to do is provide the room.

This is the kind of benefit most employers would provide for their employees and their families—if only they had the time, if only they had the contacts, if only they didn't have to worry about handling all the details. Day Consulting has the time, we have the contacts, and we have the knowledge and experience to make the program a success.

Separate yourself from the competition. Provide a valuable benefit for your employees and their families, and commit to their lifelong learning and growth. And do it for less than you think.

For less than the cost of a T-shirt per employee, you can provide 24 educational and fulfilling seminars a year for your employees. The attached information contains more facts on the topics, details, benefits, and speakers.
